

A WEEKEND OF FAITH, GRACE, AND PULLING TOGETHER

FEBRUARY 8–10, 2019

RSVP by email to chayes@gpchurch.org
with number of adults and children attending.

Friday,
February 8
—
7:00–9:00 p.m.

Facing Racism: A Vision of the Intercultural Church

- This presentation will be led by Rev. Mark Koenig, the Advocate for Justice Ministries in the Presbytery of New York City. Rev. Koenig served in the Presbyterian Mission Agency for 17 years in a number of capacities: coordinator for racial and intercultural justice, director of the Presbyterian Ministry at the United Nations, coordinator of the Presbyterian Peacemaking Program, and associate for antiracism training.
- Small group discussion and Questions/Responses

Saturday,
February 9
—
9:00–11:00 a.m.

— LUNCH —

Racial Autobiography Workshop

- Led by Rev. Koenig, this workshop is designed to encourage people to engage with a series of other people while considering their own experiences and those of their family on a variety of questions that will stick with you and make you think over and over.
- Questions/Responses and Action Plans
- Lunch will be provided following the workshop.

1:00–3:00 p.m.

Panel Discussion of Worship and Church Life in Other Cultures

- The panel will include Rev. Samuel Manukure Atiemo of Christ the King Presbyterian Church in Berwyn Heights, MD, and GPC members who are not native-born Americans.
- There will be representatives from around the world.

Sunday,
February 10
—
12:15–2:00 p.m.

Potluck/Vision Casting Session

- We will begin with some conversation starter table questions on specific steps and then see where the Spirit leads us.
- Bring a main dish, side, or dessert to share.

We hope that this weekend's event will inspire you to continue the knitting together of our GPC family by joining a small group. Our Lenten Study of the Lord's Prayer will begin in March.

The February Series is made possible by the Eugene Johnson endowment for adult education.